In Justice Gavito's court "the mills of the gods" have been grinding exceeding fine this week. The Herald's subscription list at Point Isabel is growing fast. Names are added daily. Whether the natural attractions at the Point are of an unusual character is a secondary question, when we consider that the beauty of Brownsville will be there this summer, to a large extent. And where the beauty is the climate will also be found. So Point Isabel will be without a doubt a very attractive place from now until October.

Arrested in Brownsville.

Last night, about a quarter past eleven, Catarino de la Cruz, who is charged with the murder of the woman, Julia Covarrubias, near Matamoros yesterday, was arrested in Brownsville and is now in jail here. The arrest was made near the corner of the Catholic church by Policeman Felix Calderon. Cruz was found to be armed with a knife, but he offered no resistance to arrest. It is said that he confesses the murder. He will probably be extradited, as soon as the necessary formalities are complied with.

Received by steamer Manteo fresh goods in the lines of pineapples—chunks and grated—grape nuts, "Force," celluloid starch, U. B. C. soda biscuits, ginger snaps, head rice, baker's cocoa.

Ruthven & Ford.

John Darrouzet, the genial proprietor of the new restaurant on Elizabeth street, has fitted up a first-class eating place. It is newly furnished, neatly equipped and everything is fresh and clean. His enterprise deserves the patronage which we believe our citizens will give.

Grape nuts and "Force" are two well known for comment, but a morning meal of either makes you feel cool for the day.

Lieut. Sulnon's Disappearance.

The San Antonio Express of recent date reports the mysterious disappearance of Lieut. Max Sulnon of Troop D, Twelfth Cavalry. He was stationed at Fort Sam Houston at the time, some two months ago. A leave of absence of four days was granted him on May 6, and he has not showed up since. His record is said to be good, and fears are entertained that some disaster has befallen him. Lieut. Sulnon's family reside at Laredo, and the Times reports that they have no idea of his whereabouts and are much distressed. He visited Fort Brown last year and is remembered by many of our citizens.

The New York restaurant will be open to the public July 8, on Elizabeth street, adjoining the J. S. & M. H. Cross store. JOHN DARROUZET, Proprietor.

THEY'RE CONVINCED.

The esteemed Brownsville Herald has a good, long memory and draws the deadly parallel on the Aransas Pass. It shows how that the Say has ignored the representations of Brownsville and the earnest pleas of that city for rail connection with the outside world and, now that its territory is to be invaded by the stranger, how it would make the people forget the past and believe in its sincerity—until it gets Colonel Lott's proposition turned down. If the Herald can only convince the people of these things, which are absolutely true, and get them to stick to Col. Lott, it will yet save the day for the lower Rio Grande.—Laredo Times.

STATUS OF THE PUBLISHER.

Here is a little straight-from-the-shoulder talk about matters lying near our heart. There seems to be a feeling among business men that a newspaper has no business to make money. Why not? It is the most exacting business in the world, the most trying in every way. It means long hours and the greatest care in its conduct. The newspaper has the entire public to deal with. It is criticized on all occasions. It has to deal with all the cranks in the community, and to do this successfully requires good judgment and patience. It has power, and that power, to the credit of journalism, is nearly always wielded for the public good. No question of vital concern to the home people fails to find a strong support from the home newspaper, and this, too, without remuneration. The publisher spends his money to further these projects, and the community never gives a thought to the matter of cost to him. It is not paid out of the public pocket.—Newspaperdom.
